

IUJ Today

- About 300 students from over 50 countries/territories
- Full-time residential programs (Dorms on beautiful campus)
- 6 programs at the Master's level, with cross-registration encouraged to customize your education
- Exciting research and project collaboration chances with leading companies and organizations
- In-house career counseling and internship and job hunting support (for private students)

What kind of people and professions can be enhanced by the IUJ programs?

- Those wishing to become truly international leaders with cross-border communication and negotiations skills in the English language, with exposure to Japanese and many other languages.
- Those wishing to understand how Japan differs from other countries in order to become a more effective global business leader and communicator.
- Those expecting international assignments in business, international organizations, etc. where a diverse workplace and cultural differences are faced on a daily basis.
- Those needing an international network of professional contacts in governments, businesses, international organizations, etc, all of whom you can call friends.
- Those wanting to go on to PhD programs or into high level research fields.

Each IUJ program reaches a different audience

MBA – Masters of Business Administration

Those planning to take leadership and management roles in diverse teams benefit greatly from the IUJ MBA experience.

- Leadership skills on international teams that challenge projects together, including cross-border consulting work
- International standards and best practices in CSR, businesses' responsibilities to the environment, etc.
- Deep finance and investment banking knowledge from derivatives to project finance, to investment risk analysis in the Japanese and overseas markets
- New business development, including strategic use of internet and mobile technologies and how to market those new products
- General business skills, marketing and product development/promotions

Masters of E-business Management

Those hoping to contribute to a company's or organization's needs as they face always-changing options for the use of IT to improve business functions, find the Ebiz program rewarding.

Specialized skills in

- CRM
- IT project development and implementation
- IT and ITC consulting and analyses
- E-commerce, E-governance, Internet business
- Mobile technologies and consumer behavior, for marketing, new product development, and new business development

International Development Program (IDP)

Public Management and Policy Analysis (PMPP)

IDP serves professionals in project finance jobs, development consulting jobs either within a company or with a consulting firm.

PMPP focuses on the management skills needed in large public organizations, and the projects they run

Professionals in the

- Energy sector (gas, electricity, alternative resources, and international project work)
- Infrastructure projects work,
- Economic and investment risk analyses,
- Economics for development, etc.
- Business consulting for investments in developing regions
- Development consulting and banking
- Management of major world organizations and governments.

International Relations Program

IRP features a more independent and self structured program with a longer thesis that can be a great training ground for a

- Journalists and PhD bound academics and researchers
- University lectures and professors
- International organization researcher and analyst.

International Peace Studies Program

IPSP is for those needing to understand

- Good governance practices,
- The role of governments, organizations and business in creating a situation free of conflict where business and people can flourish.

Those looking at careers within

- Peace Keeping, and Election monitoring
- Journalism,
- Academics/PhD pursuits, etc.

For more information, see <http://www.iuj.ac.jp/> or contact us at info@iuj.ac.jp

To apply online or download full program descriptions see <http://www.iuj.ac.jp/admis/>