Course Description: This course introduces students to the contested idea of global civil society (GCS) and examines related issues. Among topics to be discussed are: GCS and NGOs, nationalism, gender, democracy, and citizenship.
Learning Objectives: Students will have gained a perspective to look at what is going on in the world, a perspective different from a state-centered perspective.
Career Relevance: relevant to the career in governmental agencies, INGOs, international cooperation, journalism, and social movements, and so on.
Course Context or Rationalization: offers a non-state centered view on politics, thereby complementing the state-centered perspective on international politics.
Delivery Methods: discussion and in-class presentation
Assessment: summary writing and active participation (15%), in-class presentation (20%), and a term paper (65%)
