

INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF JAPAN

Graduate School of International Relations

Academic Year: 2016-17

Term: Winter

Course	Course code ADC 6940	Changing Security Paradigm: National versus Human
Name of Instructor	Kinichi Komano		Credit Number 2
Instructor's contact Information	Office# Institute-306	Office Hours TBA	E-mail: kinichi_komano@yahoo.co.jp
Class Schedule Day / Time	TBA(10:30~12:00 & 13:00~14:30, Wednesday)

Course Description: By identifying the major trend of the world in the post-Cold War era and distinguishing elements and factors at work behind it, we try to understand the world of our age in its entirety. In so doing, the concept of Human Security is addressed and its meaning, background and shortages are highlighted as a means of nurturing insight into the dynamics of the present day world. Interaction between students and the lecturer is emphasized,
Learning Objectives: are to develop the understanding on interaction of different phenomena of the world, to grasp driving forces behind them, to get acquainted with the nature of challenges and to nurture capabilities for addressing them, with keeping in mind of the notion of “human security”,
Career Relevance: Those professions which require understanding on and insight into the changing world and its challenges: such as diplomacy, national and local administration, education and research, international organizations, multinational enterprises, international and local NGOs, media, etc..
Course Context or Rationalization: By getting acquainted with the development in the world by putting things in the global context and having thoughts on the challenges ahead, abilities to make a balanced judgment and to produce diverse ideas will be developed, which are of absolute necessity to play leadership role at any place,
Delivery Methods: Lecture, class discussion and students' presentation,
Assessment: Active class participation (class discussion and students' presentation) 40%, test 20%, term paper 40%.
Prerequisite: Interest in international affairs and developmental issues,
Textbook(s)	Required: Lecturer prepares power-point for each class, its slide (short version) is circulated before the class, Reference books/Journal Articles: (1)United Nations Millennium Declaration, (2)“Human Security Now-Protecting and Empowering People”, Report of the Commission on Human Security, (3)“A More Secure World: Our Shared Responsibility,” Report of the UN Secretary

	General's High Level Panel on Threats, Challenges and Change, United Nations, 2004. (4)"In Larger Freedom: towards Development, Security and Human Rights for All", Report of the Secretary-General of United Nations to its General Assembly, (5)"the Turbulent Decade-Confronting the Refugee Crises of the 1990s", Sadako Ogata, W.W. Norton & Company, (6)"Making Human Rights A Reality", Emilie M. Hafner Burton, Princeton University Press, 2013, (7)"the Twilight of Human Rights Law ", Eric A. Posner, Oxford University Press, 2014, (8) UN Sustainable Development Goals,
Class Outline	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1.What is Human Security? 2.World in Transition 3.Role of United Nations 4.UN Reform 5.Peace Building-Post Conflict Reconstruction 6.Refugee Problem 7. Japan's Security Strategy 8.Japan's Development Cooperation
Others (if any)	